

Egypt's Social Pyramid

Egypt's ruler controlled all of Egypt and was thought to be a god.

Egypt's middle class provided goods and services.

Egypt's enslaved people were mainly prisoners of war.

Egypt's upper class owned most of the farmland and controlled the temples.

Egypt's lower class provided food and was forced to build monuments and pyramids during inundation.

